Shubham Garg started his trading journey at the early age of eighteen. Over 5 years he gained experience and hands-on expertise in Equities, Forex and solutions for building sustained income and wealth.

He tells his students that an ounce of practice is worth much more than tons of preaching, which is why he took such a strong liking to the profitpirates methodology of placing real orders in the live markets. Successful trading requires that certain skills be learned; money is simply a by-product of these skills.

He believes that trading is one of the most powerful money making tools the world has to offer. As an Instructor, he is passionate about sharing his expertise.
